U. S. Launches New Weather Probing Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Weather probing Vanguard satellite was blasted into space today and preliminary instrumentation showed the rocket's three engines performed normally.

That meant the huge rocket blazed some 300 miles high in space, probably reaching a speed of 18,000 miles per hour.

An official announcement said, however, that it was not yet known whether orbital height was obtained. This should be determined within about 2 1/2 hours.

The first word on whether the United States had placed a fourth satellite in orbit was expected to come from the National Academy of Science in Washington in two hours.

The 72-foot, bullet-shaped rocket housed a 20-inch, 2 1/2-pound satellite which, if orbited successfully, could spot large storm masses such as hurricanes and typhons as they build up around the earth.

This was the seventh try at shooting a composite three-stage Vanguard, with only one success chalked up to date.

It was also the first time a Vanguard had been fired successfully in two months. During the interim the slender missile was checked out from top to bottom and a few minor adjustments made in the first two stages.

An attempted launching of this same rocket was scrubbed last week when an electrical breakdown caused automatic engine cutoff a split second before liftoff.

The mighty Vanguard engine ignited then with a flash but shut down just as quickly when the trouble developed.

The main mission of the "seeing eye" moon was to measure the movement and disposition of cloud cover around the world to aid meteorological studies. Two highly sensitive photoelectric cells were carried in the satellite to do the

Four Barred in Florida, Hearing Held

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dade County School Supt. Joe Hall has said that race was involved in the barring of four Negro children from a white school.

The public hearing Thursday was held under provisions of the Pupil Placement Act, a few designed to help school boards preserve segregation by permitting them to ban Negroes from white schools on grounds other than race.

"There was nothing else I could say," Hall said after the hearing before the Dade County School Board. "If I had tried to circumvent it, I would have been guilty of perjury."

The admission caught C. E. Graves Jr., attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, by surprise.

"It was certainly surprising that he was that frank about it," Graves told newsmen.

Four children, seeking entry to Orchard Villa School, were represented at the hearing.

Hall, called as a witness by Graves listed "sociological, psychological, and administrative factors" in each of the four cases as reasons for denying the students admission to the school.

In each case "you have pitched your opinion on race," Graves told him.

"Race is involved, yes sir," Hall replied.

3rd Dist. Stock Show Enters Final Two Days

The Third District Livestock Show entered its final two days Friday and rodeo performances are scheduled for tonight and Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

One of the most important parts of the show takes place today in the annual Junior Steer and Fat Calf Show which gets underway at 11 a.m. Following the show in the Coliseum the youths will sell their entries at a big auction which was to start at 1:30 p.m.

This attraction draws many buyers from all over this section who usually pay top prices for the calves which have been hand-fed by the youths in preparation for the show.

Friday afternoon as in the past has been designated school day at the fair and all students in the county will be admitted free of charge during the day. However, the free gate goes off at 6 p.m. and regular admission will be charged thereafter.

Another large crowd attended the rodeo last night and a good crowd is expected at the final two performances.

Nationalists Send Supplies Into Quemoy

The craft streamed out of the choppy surf in twos and threes and rolled to a protected area in a successful followup to an "over-night" air drop mission by Nationalist transport planes.

The tonnage involved was not announced.

But from an open trench on a hilltop above Liaofo Beach I saw 23 craft come in under Communist fire. I saw none hit by Red shells, although there were three near misses.

"We know how to get supplies in now and we are determined to do so," a Nationalist officer said. "We must take some risks."

The first loaded craft from the ships labored onto a beach at 11:01 a. m., the last at 11:40.

The Communists who had been loosing bursts of three to five shells at intervals at outgoing and incoming craft, opened up evenly on to beach itself 25 minutes after the last of the craft reached shore. Obviously hoping to catch work parties in the open, they fired more than 100 shells in two or three minutes.

Two of the three LSTS (Landing Ship, Tank), two Nationalist patrol craft, and what seemed to be a destroye could be seen on the horizon.

Newsmen who flew over the convoy sighted two or three do-overs of the U. S. 7th Fleet far offshore.

The night parachute mission also was carried out under Communist fire. Nationalist planes dropped more than 400 cases of supplies to Quemoy in the first two hours.

Communist artillery peppered the sky with high-altitude bursts. These did not damage the planes or ground personnel during the initial two hours.

In two hours the planes made 21 passes. Only a few dropped less than 20 cases. Others ranged up to 33.

Communist artillery bursts were so high that a fragment which hit me as I crouched in the trench merely punched a hole through my jacket and did not break the skin.

It was the third straight night that parachute missions had landed supplies on Quemoy.

The increasing effectiveness of the airdrop operations helps but does not solve the island's critical supply problem. High-priority material can be landed by parachute but the bulk must come by ship.

More Ads Backing Segregation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—People from two more Southern states placed ads in the Arkansas Democrat today extolling the anti-integration stand attributed to this city.

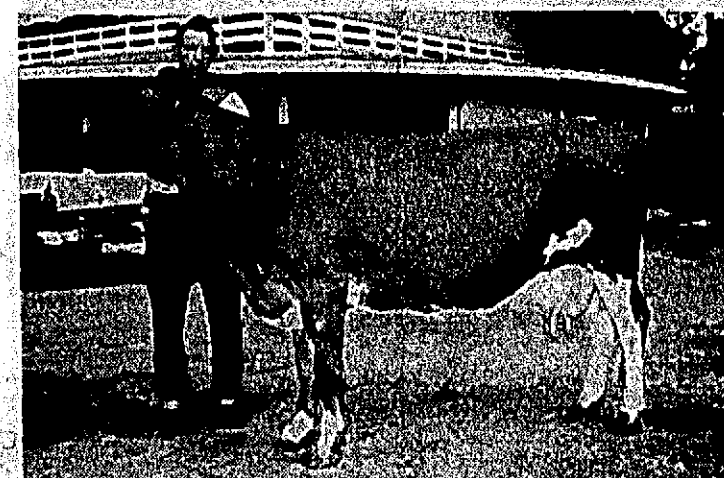

The latest advertisements were from Alabama and Georgia. Previously, Louisiana and Mississippi segregationists ran full page ads calling on the people of Little Rock to stand fast against forced integration.

The Alabama ad said paid for by the Government for the People's Committee, Guy Swann and Marvin W. Hargrove, co-chairmen. The Georgia ad said that it had been placed and paid for by citizens of the State of Georgia. Roy H. Hargrove, chairman, Roy H. Hargrove, chairman, Roy H. Hargrove, chairman.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Looking back over the annual Livestock Show parade you can readily see how hard it is to pick the winning "hois" although it didn't win a prize the Spring Hill float "Around the World in 80 Days" was very commendable and certainly timely.

Prescott folks must certainly be proud of their band which gave a very fine performance and drew a large hand from the crowd as it passed.

A couple of those majorettes are state champs.

The Hope Juniors dropped a 6-0 decision to the Jefferson Street Junior team of Texarkana here last night in a hardfought contest.

Lafayette sales of $2,265 brought the year to $60,070 or 53.5 per cent of the $112,000 quota.

August sales in Nevada County of $7,205 brought the total to $92,112 or 61.7 per cent of the $142,000 quota.

Polio Case Over U. S. Show Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—State health departments reported 44 polio cases last week, 220 of them paralytic. Both totals were the highest for any week this year.

Corrected figures for the preceding week ended Sept. 14, were listed today by the Public Health Service as 394 cases, with 191 paralytic.

The 434 cases last week compared with 412 in the corresponding week in 1937. The 220 paralytic cases compared with 82.

For the year through Sept. 20 there have been 3,807 cases, compared with 4,014 last year. The paralytic cases totaled 1,530 compared with 1,472.

About half the cases reported last week and about 40 per cent of the paralytic cases were listed by east north-central states—212 cases, with 80 paralytic.

Michigan, where there is an epidemic in one part of Detroit, again led the nation, with 129 cases reported. Including 12 paralytic. However, 95 of the Michigan cases began prior to Sept. 1.

The state noted a continuing increase in cases in Ohio, with 48 for the week ended Sept. 20, as compared with 38 the preceding week. Ohio reported the second largest total in the nation last week.

Louisiana Schools Closed in Sympathy

E. J. Elzey, president of the School Board in Plaquemine Parish, near New Orleans, said his parish "is just as much opposed to integration as the north Louisiana parishes."

New Hurricane Warnings Issued for East Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Weather Bureau ordered up hurricane warnings today from Cape Fear, N. C. to Cape Hatteras, N. C., and particularly from Charleston, S. C., at 11 a. m. EST.

The bureau said hurricane Helene was centered 200 miles east-northeast of Charleston, S. C., at 11 a. m. EST.

It was still moving northwestward at 14 miles an hour.

"Safety precautions should be started immediately and completed by sunset," the emergency warning from the bureau said.

"Storm tides and high seas will flood coastal lands from Beaufort to Wilmington, N. C., and particularly from Charleston to Cape Fear," to heights of 4 to 6 feet above levels reached by normal tides for this date.

"In some local areas tides may be even higher."

The bureau said also: "Destructive winds and dangerously high tides should begin by early this evening and are expected at the latest by 10 p. m. with maximum winds 75 to 100 miles near the center of the hurricane beginning around or shortly after midnight."

"Present indications are that the hurricane center will reach the South Carolina coast near or a short distance north of Charleston."

"People within the reach of the forecast tides and sea floods should evacuate immediately before rising water cuts off escape."

The bureau said no important intensification of the storm's violence was expected.

The storm was reported centered about 200 miles east of Brunswick, Georgia, last night. Edges of the gale winds at the forward fringe were estimated at 110 miles southeast of the South Carolina coast.

Violence as Algerians Go to Polls

By ANDREW BOROWICZ

ALGIERS (AP)—Violence shattered an atmosphere already heavy with fear as voters in scattered parts of Algeria cast ballots today on Premier de Gaulle's proposed new constitution.

French officials reported at least six military clashes with rebels as voting began. Several rebel terrorist attacks occurred in Algerian cities.

At Self, rebels sprayed rifle fire into a bar, killing a woman and injuring six other persons. Nearby, a French soldier was wounded by a rebel grenade. A Moslem was assassinated. Similar incidents were reported at Mompalao.

Violence Feared by Faubus If Negroes Try to Enroll Again

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today violence may break out again in Little Rock this year if attempts are made to enroll Negro children in the high schools when they are reopened.

The city is preparing to vote Saturday on whether to reopen the schools on an integrated basis. If they vote against that proposition, the governor said he would reopen them as private schools, and segregated.

Reporters asked at his news conference today if he expects trouble, should anyone attempt to bring Negro children to the schools. He said there might be, but he would not say whether he plans to call out the Arkansas National Guard, as he did last year.

Preceding the news conference, five clergymen read a statement they said was signed by 80 ministers backing Faubus' position on the schools.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The reopening of four public schools at Little Rock, Ark., as private institutions appeared a step closer today while Virginia's policy of massive resistance approached another legal showdown.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Thursday night that rulings by an Arkansas federal judge paved the way toward resumption of classes in the high schools he closed in the face of a U. S. Supreme Court integration order.

The governor referred to Judge John E. Miller's refusal to pass on the legality of an Arkansas plan to lease the school buildings as private, segregated schools.

Miller said it was a matter for a three-judge federal court to resolve.

The judge also dismissed a petition by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asking him to enjoin the School Board from leasing the schools.

Faubus said the action "now paves the way for the School Board to lease the schools and if the people of Little Rock vote against integration Saturday, the schools can be opened immediately."

A special referendum will be held Saturday on the question of integrating the schools.

U. S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers entered the case before Miller as a friend of the court and said that the private school plan was a sham and illegal.

Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Virginia are among Southern states which have similar laws for operating schools on a private, segregated basis if faced with orders to integrate.

In Washington, President Eisenhower said the closing of schools in Arkansas and Virginia could have disastrous consequences to their students and eventually to the nation. He made the comment in a letter to J. Albert Roiston, chairman of a Charlottesville, Va., committee for public education.

Meanwhile, the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals in Baltimore prepared to hold an emergency session Saturday to hear arguments on whether Norfolk should be granted a year's delay in enrolling 17 Negroes at junior and senior high schools.

If the court refuses the delay, the schools are expected to be shut down under Virginia's massive resistance laws, idling about 10,000 pupils.

About 700 citizens of Warren County, Va., voted overwhelmingly in favor of a private educational corporation that would provide classrooms for the 1,000 pupils enrolled at the Front Royal high school. The school was closed Sept. 15.

Faubus returned from the four-day Southern governors' Conference at Lexington, Ky. He was welcomed home by a group of about 25 teen-agers.

A spokesman for the Little Rock School Board said the board planned no further legal action until the referendum. Results are known.

State Employment on the Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A report issued yesterday shows employment in Arkansas increased by 8,000 workers in the July-August period.

Both manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries shared in the gain. The total number of employed persons in the state was listed as 336,000 about 1,500 above the total figure for the same period last year.

The figures were contained in the September report of the Employment Security Division of the Department of Labor.

Service and miscellaneous employment rose from 39,000 to 40,100, including insurance and real estate. Increased from 10,700 to 11,100, and retail trade gained from 81,700 to 82,000.

Transportation and public utilities construction and mining showed declines in the number of workers.

Faubus Hurls More Accusations

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus has accused the federal administration of trying to "disrupt Arkansas' industrialization program because of the 'social situation'."

He apparently referred to clashes between the federal government and himself over integration.

Faubus said he started the state's industrialization in his first term. The program worked successfully until the integration program came along, he said.

Faubus made his remarks yesterday during the report of the Industrial Development Committee of the Southern Governors Conference. He was committee chairman.

Defendant Could Read Their Minds

By RICHARD O'REGAN

BERLIN (AP) — Six spectators in a courtroom in suburban Berlin raised their hands. Yes, they told the judge, they were willing to have their minds read by the man on trial.

They wrote six questions and handed them to the bench. The judge turned to Gerhard Belgardt, 39, otherwise known as "Hanssen II, Germany's No. 1 mind reader."

The charge against Belgardt was he had swindled funds in private sences by professing to give news of missing relatives.

The judge: "What is on the first piece of paper?"

Belgardt: "The lady is asking about her sister. She is an inch taller, blonde, considerably younger, and works in a public building."

The judge: "What is on the next paper?"

Belgardt: "The man has asked about his son. He will come along well in school."

The man: "Correct."

The judge: "The next question is: Is a city detective. What has he written?"

Belgardt, hesitating: "He asks about his mother or his grandmother. I have no contact. Either the question is phony or she is dead."

Rains Halt State Crop Harvesting

LITTLE ROCK, AP — Heavy rains brought cotton and rice harvesting activity to a halt in Arkansas last week and had preparation for winter crops still is at a standstill in most counties by Crop reporting Service said.

Because of wet soil, the federal-state Crop reporting Service said today.

Late soybeans benefited from the moisture and are fruiting heavily, the agency said in its weekly crop bulletin.

Cotton needs a period of sunny weather to assure full fruiting and to enable resumption of the harvest.

The rice harvest is expected to resume full scale as soon as field conditions permit.

The man has suffered long — a concentration camp? Is that correct?"

The detective: "Correct. I asked about my grandmother. She is dead. I was in a concentration camp."

Three further questions were asked and Belgardt got the answers relatively right.

The judge: "I see no evidence that Belgardt has deliberately cheated people. The experiments in court, particularly that with the detective, indicate that the accused has a certain validity to his claims as a mind reader. Case dismissed."

Hanssen II, embracing his wife: "I had foreseen that I would be freed."

Hope Faces Crucial Test Tonight at Smackover

The Hope Bobcats journey to Smackover tonight for a crucial game with the over-tough Buckaroos at 8 o'clock. It will be Hope's first district game.

Fair warning has been issued emphatically to the Bobcats that Smackover is going to go all out for this one. The Bucks were upset last week by Fairview in a contest that was played in the rain and mud. The previous week the Smackover team defeated Malvern.

Always tough at home the Bucks would like mightily to win this one as they already have one district loss. Another would all but eliminate them. Coach Ray Brown plans to get this one and is making no bones about it.

He has a couple of defense "wonders" in 200 pound Calvin Barabara at end and 175 pound Clydell Womack at tackle. Both of these boys were all-district last season and are reportedly even better this year.

According to weights released, Hope will heavily outweigh the Bucks. The Bobcats average 169 to 184 for Smackover; the Hope line is 170 and the Bucks 163; the backfield is the big difference with the Hope runner averaging 167 to 135 for Smackover. However, the Bobcats aren't fooled a bit by those weights which have a habit of turning out grossly exaggerated.

Couch Pierce knows what to expect and has been warning the Hope boys all week that it will take a top effort to win at Smackover. It should prove one of the toughest games of the season.

A large caravan of cars along with the band will make the trip in a group under escort. They will leave from downtown Hope.

Ancient Archie to Defend His Title

MONTREAL (AP) — Ancient Archie Moore, whose age ranges in various estimates from 41 to 49 years, will defend his light heavyweight boxing title for the seventh time on Dec. 10 against durable Yvon Durelle, the New Brunswick fisherman.

Articles for the 15-round televised scrap were signed Thursday. Moore, who recently admitted he was 49 although the books list him as 45 and some say 41, will get $100,000. Durelle will receive a guarantee of $12,000 or 20 per cent of the net gate.

Archie, who last defended his title against Tony Anthony Sept. 27, 1957, checked in for the signing ceremonies wearing a 102 pound suit, so he said. Others thought he weighed quite a bit more.

But, as usual, Moore said he wouldn't have any trouble getting down to the 175-pound limit. Durelle, 28, the British Empire light heavy king, looked much more rugged and closer to fighting condition.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC) in the United States with the exception of border points within a 200-mile distance of Montreal, which will be blacked out.

Sports in Brief

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shrook stopped to pick up a hitchhiker. It was their son Paul on his way home on leave from military duty in Korea. The Shrooks hadn't known he was coming.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Five-year-old Jackie Garcia was crossing a street near his home. A car knocked him down. Jackie got up and another car knocked him down. Again he got up. This time he ran into the side of a parked car and fell. Jackie is in a hospital recovering from minor cuts and bruises.

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Genta had trouble stuffing his letter into the mail box. He was still trying when firemen arrived and told the 10-year-old man the mailbox was across the street from the fire alarm box.

BURNA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — A black bear who gave up mountain life for a while in the city is dead.

The 150-pound bear wandered into town Wednesday, made his way into an orchard and started eating apples and other fruit. He was shot by a hunter who called the game warden.

Grade Football to Be Planned on Monday

All boys interested in playing Grade School age football for the coming season should report to the Little League Baseball park on Monday, Sept. 29th immediately after school.

Plans are for the teams to practice in the afternoons after school twice a week and play their games on Saturday night at K-Park. Possibly some games will be played as preliminaries to the Robert "B" and "Jr. games.

The "B" team will play "Flag" football and it will be a requirement that all players have a helmet and a jersey matching their team colors. Players who do not have a helmet should report to Charles Gough. Players will not have to bring a helmet out to K-Park on Monday. There will be no practice. This meeting is only to determine how many boys are interested in playing.

Players who do not have a jersey matching their school colors may buy a white jersey and dye it very easily. All players should find out from their parents whether or not they have the full 24 hour coverage school insurance.

Coaches for the teams will be Roy Taylor, Monty Monts, Jerry O'Neil, Jimmy Hollis, Bill Gunter, Bob Westbrook and Larry Cox.

Henry Lists Covington as Doubtful

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney could probably announce his World Series opening game lineup today if only he were assured of the physical fitness of Wes Covington, the Braves' hardhitting left fielder.

Unfortunately, Haney will not know for certain the condition of Covington's ailing left knee until Sunday or Monday at the earliest. The lefthanded slugger, hobbled by poor underpinnings practically all season, is scheduled to undergo an extensive examination of the damaged knee within the next few days.

We also are plagued by a pulled muscle in his right thigh. There is a possibility that the knee will have to be drained once more before the start of the series. Until the past month, the draining took place twice a week.

In the last four weeks, according to Haney, Covington's knee has had to be drained only once a week.

"Usually after the draining," Haney said, "I've had to rest him a day because the knee becomes sore. Should the knee have to be drained again, I suppose we'd be better off if I did not play him against a lefthanded pitcher."

The New York Yankees have not yet announced their first game pitcher, but Haney, like many others, assumes it will be southpaw Whitey Ford.

If Covington is unable to play, Joe Adcock will open in left field. Normally a first baseman, the righthanded slugger saw sufficient service in left field this season to assure Haney that he can do an adequate job in the outfield.

If Covington plays, Adcock will alternate with the lefthanded hitting Frank Torre at first base, depending upon the opposing pitcher.

Willie Mays goes into the final three days of the National League batting race tonight with a .273 average. Richie Ashburn has a .185 mark.

In the American League, leader Pete Rinnels is batting .222. Ted Williams, the runnerup, is at .235. Those aren't typographical errors. That's the way the fighting four have hit thus far against the clubs they'll be facing when the season closes this weekend, and in the parks where they'll be swinging.

For the record, Mays leads the NL race with a .345 average as his Giants play the St. Louis Cardinals in three at San Francisco. Ashburn is second at .343 as he and the Phillies open a three-game finale at Pittsburgh.

Rinnels is batting .324, while Williams' Boston teammate, has a .320 average as the Red Sox open a four-game series at Washington tonight.

Mays, 27, has hit Cardinal pitching at a .359 clip for the season with 28 hits in 78 at bats. But while he batted .422 in the 11-game series at St. Louis, he's had only a .273 average against the Cards in eight games at San Francisco.

Ashburn, 31, is batting .314 against the Pirates for the season, with 22 hits in 71 at bats. He hit .386 against the Bucs in their 11 games at Philadelphia, but he's hit only .185 — five hits in 27 at bats — at Pittsburgh.

Rinnels, 30, picked up from Washington last January for Norm Lauen and Albie Pearson, has batted .373 against his old mates for the season — swinging for a dandy .475 mark in 11 games at Boston, but managing only a .222 average at Washington.

Williams, 40, the defending champ shooting for his sixth title, is batting .327 against Washington tonight. He was .370 against the Senators at Boston, but is hitting only .235 at Washington with four hits in 17 at bats.

Stan Musial of the Cards, the defending champ who has won seven titles, is the closest competitor to Mays and Ashburn. Musial is third at .330.

Harvey Kuhn of Detroit is third in the American League race. He's hitting .310 after losing a point with a 1-for-4 job as the Tigers beat the Chicago White Sox 7-1 in the only game scheduled in the majors Thursday.

There was considerable surprise at the decision to continue the talks here since sources close to the conferees had freely predicted that today's meeting would be the last for some time.

Today's meeting between U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red China's envoy Wang Ping-Nan was the fourth since their talks started.

So far as could be learned, the United States is still demanding a cease-fire in the offshore islands area of Pormosa Strait.

Usually well-informed Communist sources express belief only Nationalist evacuation of Quemoy and Matsu could bring about a cease-fire. Communist China then might be willing to negotiate at a higher-level international conference.

Folsom to Talk With Condemned Man

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Jimmy Wilson, sentenced to die Oct. 24 for the robbery of an elderly white widow, Friday will meet Gov. James E. Folsom, who is reportedly ready to spare his life.

A clemency hearing for the illiterate handyman has been set in the governor's office.

Folsom has refused to say publicly what he might do, but sources close to the governor have said they expect him to commute

Youth Shot to Death at Alma

ALMA, Ark. (AP)—Billy Stephens, 21, was shot to death outside the home of a neighbor here Friday.

Wilson's death sentence to life imprisonment.

Wilson, who had served two previous prison terms for grand larceny, was sentenced to death for the robbery of 82-year-old Mrs. Estelle Barker at her home at Marion, Ala. Mrs. Barker testified that before taking the money — $1.05—the Negro choked her and attempted to rape her.

Wilson wasn't charged with attempted rape, which carries a maximum penalty of 20 years imprisonment. He was indicted for robbery and nighttime larceny, both capital offenses, and was tried only on the first charge.

The Alabama Supreme Court has upheld Wilson's death sentence and recently refused to reconsider the case.

Albert Kinsey, 58, told authorities he fired from his bedroom at someone who cursed him, tried to get him to come outside and banged on the front door. He said he did not know who he had shot until officers arrived.

Kinsey was jailed without charge at Van Buren, pending completion of an investigation.

Kinsey told Prosecutor N. D. Edwards in a signed statement that he was awakened by a man shouting "is this where Eibert Kinsey lives?" Kinsey replied that it was. He said the cursing, dares to come outside and door banging followed. Kinsey related he got his shotgun and fired one time through a bedroom window, left the house by a rear door and went to notify Marshal McCoy Smith.

Edwards said a loaded .22-caliber pistol was found on Stephens' body, which was lying near the Kinsey porch.

Mrs. Stephens said her husband had left their home to search for a prowler they had seen near the house.
